

Monty Sullivan was named Chancellor of Delgado Community College in April, 2012. During his tenure as Chancellor, Delgado Community College has experienced resurgence with nearly $200 million in facility developments, significant gains in foundation giving, substantial increases in student success rates, record numbers of graduates, and a reconnection with the business community of the region.

Dr. Sullivan has served in six different colleges and in two state community and technical college systems over the last two decades providing a broad background understanding the importance of higher education in solving the most pressing needs of communities, industry, and people. He has worked successfully in both state and federal advocacy efforts to improve the policy environment.

He previously served as Executive Vice President for the LCTCS where he led efforts to target federal Carl Perkins and state Rapid Response funds to solve critical workforce needs. He also provided leadership for Louisiana's technical colleges and oversaw the development of WorkReadyU, the state's adult basic education effort.

Prior to joining the LCTCS, Dr. Sullivan served as Vice Chancellor for Academic Services and Research for the Virginia Community College System (VCCS). In addition to his duties as Vice Chancellor, he also served a dual role as Interim President of Eastern Shore Community College. While in Virginia, he provided leadership for the Vice Presidents of Virginia's 23 community colleges advancing transfer, developmental education, student success, and faculty professional development initiatives.

Dr. Sullivan was one of the founding employees of Louisiana Delta Community College in 2001. He has also served as Director of the Center for Rural Development at Louisiana Tech University, Director of Continuing Education at Louisiana State University at Eunice, and Coordinator of the Mobile Automated Learning Lab (MALL) Project at Grambling State University.

Dr. Sullivan is married to Kelley Miles Sullivan, a Registered Nurse and a graduate of John Tyler Community College. The couple has four daughters- Logan, Maci, Baylee, and Allie.
