Dr. Sullivan:

It was noted in NLTCC's initial review with SACSCOC that our current mission statement did not accurately reflect what our institution is or does and would therefore need to be updated for clarity. After meeting with faculty, staff, and industry stakeholders the following mission statement has been developed to describe the institution more effectively and clearly.

Northwest Louisiana Technical Community College is a public institution of higher education that provides high-quality academic, workforce training, and transfer opportunities through the delivery of associate degrees, technical diplomas, and certificates that inspire students to enter today's competitive global workforce.

Please accept this letter as a request to submit our new mission statement to the Board for approval.

Sincerely,
